SUBJECT: Application for Senior Geotechnical Project Manager at NV5

Dear Judy Cohen,

I am writing to express my keen interest in the Senior Geotechnical Project Manager position at NV5, as advertised on LinkedIn. With over 10 years of experience in managing complex technical projects from conception through to completion, I have a strong background in the core responsibilities outlined in your job description.

My career has been focused on leading cross-functional teams to deliver sophisticated solutions across public and private sectors. I am an expert in the end-to-end project lifecycle, including proposal development, resource allocation, budget management, risk mitigation, and ensuring all client commitments are met on schedule. I excel at translating complex requirements into actionable plans and providing clear, consistent communication to stakeholders at all levels.

While my background is in technology-driven projects, the fundamental principles of rigorous project management, client consultation, and overseeing execution are universal. I am passionate about NV5's mission to improve communities and am confident that my adaptive project management approach and dedication to delivering results would make me a valuable asset to your team.

Thank you for considering my application. I am eager to discuss how my project leadership skills can contribute to NV5's success.
